Cuadra Hosted Service[®] selected as KMWorld Trend-Setting Product of 2008

Cuadra gives customers a convenient and secure method for managing their information.

Los Angeles, CA—August 26, 2008. Cuadra Associates, a leader in flexible and affordable knowledge management solutions, today announced that the Cuadra Hosted Service has been selected as one of the “Trend-Setting Products of the Year for 2008” by KMWorld magazine.

KMWorld's list of Trend-Setting Products honors the best products in the knowledge and content management markets. “This year’s edition has been compiled through briefings with vendors themselves, along with conversations with analysts, users and system integrators,” says Hugh McKellar, KMWorld editor-in-chief. “Our mission in selecting this year’s products has been deceptively simple: select those that deliver robust customer value.”

“We are honored that the Cuadra Hosted Service has been named a ‘Trend-Setting Product of 2008’ ” says Dr. Carlos A. Cuadra, President of Cuadra Associates. “We have been providing our customer organizations with powerful STAR[®] knowledge management solutions and services for nearly 30 years. Our goal has always been to offer our customers courteous, responsive, and technically expert assistance at a reasonable cost. With the hosted service we have expanded our services to include complete management of their data—provided with the same high level of support that we have always believed our customers deserve. We are pleased that a prestigious publication like KMWorld has acknowledged our success in providing that level of service to our customers.”
